Oral History and Ex Libris

Marion Gilroy, in her Preface to As We Remember It, Interviews with pioneering librarians of British Columbia (ed. by Marion Gilroy and Samuel Rothstein, 1970) stated the proposition very well.

"Almost the whole course of public library development in British Columbia has thus been encompassed within the lifetime of people who are still alive to recall it, to recall in fact how they themselves shaped it. For, as with the beginnings of any social institution, the early history of the public library in British Columbia is almost synonymous with the careers of a few individuals". (p.7)

A purpose of the Ex Libris Association as stated in the Objects is to tape recollections of county library development in Southern Ontario and regional library development in the rest of Ontario and in Canada. Since these developments took place in the 1930's to the 1960's many of the pioneers are still alive and, indeed, are members of the Association. Who are some of them? (This is not a definitive list but a sample to indicate how important it is that the Oral History Project get underway.)

Mary Barber. Worked out of the London Public Library as the first librarian in Middlesex County.

Audrey (Gray) Cobban. Was Librarian, Simcoe County Library (Barrie), 1946-49 and Middlesex County Library, 1949-54.

Jean Eckmier. Developed the Huron County Library (Goderich) and remained its Chief Librarian, 1945-1961.

Betty Hardie. Was the first librarian of County Libraries in Kent County (Chatham) and later, Essex County (Windsor), both in the 1940's.

Anne Nyland. Engineered the establishment of the Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry County Library and its contract with the Cornwall Public Library in 1964.

Roberta (Wilson) Weiner. Was first assistant in the Fraser Valley Regional Library from 1942 to 1946. In 1948 she established the Wentworth County Library (Hamilton) where she stayed until 1955.

Some of the pioneers of County and Regional library development who are not members of the Association (yet) could also make a substantial contribution to the history of libraries.

Helen (Blair) Spicer. (Mrs. Spicer was interviewed by Dr. Stephen Cummings in August, 1987.) On graduation in 1945 she was the part time Librarian for the Lambton County Library. From 1946 to 1949 she was Librarian, Middlesex County Library.

William A. Roedde. Developed the first Regional Library System in Ontario in the northwestern area of the province before he became the Director of Provincial Library Service, Department of Education.

There are many others who should be on the list such as Molly (Cawson) Williams, Louise Krompart, Ruth (Rochester) Konrad, all of whom were involved in county library development in Ontario. We need help in identifying and contacting anyone who is able to contribute to the library historical record.

It is our intention to complement the oral history project which is underway at the Faculty of Library and Information Science under the direction of Dr. Margaret Anderson.

Bruce Peel makes some interesting points:

"An important purpose is certainly to arrange gatherings of members of Ex Libris... With each passing year we (retired librarians) feel lonelier and more isolated at library association conferences as our contemporaries fade out of active professional life.

"Preservation of library history could be a group activity.

Perhaps Ex Libris should make contact with Professor Peter McNally and his CLA Library History Group. Support might take the form of subventions to aid in publishing of library history, or to encourage library school students in their thesis year to select a suitable topic for a dissertation. Personally I find all this prattle in current library literature about automation a weariness to the soul.

"At least three librarians have been honoured with festschrifts, namely, Elizabeth H. Morton, James Talman, and Wm Kaye Lamb; such collections of essays involve a number of contributors and are a contribution to library literature. The late Dr. F. Dolores Donnelly dealt with the evolution of our National Library, and of course Dr. Robert Blackburn is completing a history of Canada; most important academic library. Should other library histories be desirable, the people with the knowledge to write them are in Ex Libris.

"Some may say that a library's accumulated annual reports set out the history of the institution. So often these describe the obvious events without explaining how and why a certain administrative decision was reached and executed. In retrospect were our decisions in organizational patterns and building programmes always wisest? Perhaps what is needed is not the historian but the investigative reporter; and that is where library school students in thesis research might make some significant contributions to Canadian library literature."

The Board has discussed the financial future of Ex Libris. When New Horizon Funds run out in 1988, how can the Association survive if we want it to? One suggestion was a life membership but at our age that seemed a bit macabre. What do you think?

YOUR BOARD HAS BEEN WORKING (As well as enjoying retirement)

Since the organizational meeting of the Ex Libris Association in November, 1986, the Board has met four times - in April, May, August and September - both as the Boards of the Ex Libris Organization and of the Ex Libris Association.

Plans for the second annual meeting of the Association have been in the works since March. It was agreed early on that the theme of the meeting would be oral history. This session is to inspire groups to get going on interviewing the pioneers of county librarianship in Ontario for a start. At the same time we hope that members or groups of members will be inspired to ferret out original materials - letters, memos, photographs, etc. from personal possessions that are otherwise likely to be discarded. As an example of items that some members have located in their own possession - James Talman turned over a number of snapshots taken at the 1949 CLA Conference in Winnipeg and Harry Campbell sent copies of a number of documents including a letter of employment to Miss Barnstead from Dr. Locke in 1909. A miscellaneous collection of IPLO materials - minutes, reports, memoranda, etc. was deposited by several members of the Association in 1987. This collection was made available to Dr. Janet Fyfe for her course, Introduction to Archives Administration at SLIS, UWO and two students have undertaken a project to arrange the collection and prepare a finding aid. The project will be complete by mid-December.

Work on contacting potential members goes on and we hope those already in the network will spread the news. Early in 1987 a letter was sent to the directors of university and large public libraries asking for contact with their retirees and those close to retirement. We received little response but membership has been rising steadily. It is now over 100 members with a greater number (non-members as yet) on the mailing list. For your information the complete mailing list is attached.

The Board has approved a proposal for the establishment of an Elizabeth Morton Memorial. Its impetus came from Edith Jarvi who suggested that the Association initiate a drive for funds to provide a suitable memorial in honour of this outstanding Canadian librarian. The Board decided that the Canadian Library Association should be approached and its Council agreed to consider a proposal if the Ex Libris Association presented it. At its September meeting the Board considered a draft proposal and, after a number of amendments, approved it for presentation to the membership at the annual meeting. The text of the proposal is included in this newsletter and if it is approved by the members will be considered by the CLA Council at its November meeting.

The Board was sorry to receive a letter of resignation at its September meeting, from fellow member June Munro who worked hard at the initial stages of both the Organization (for New Horizon Funds) and the Association. She gave freely of her time while coping with a number of health problems. The Board recorded its appreciation for her great effort on its behalf and wished her a speedy return to health and the activities of the Association.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution (approved at the Board of Director's meeting, September 15, 1987) will be presented to the annual general meeting on Nov. 19, 1987. Deletions are underlined and amendments are capitalized.

PROPOSED SLATE OF OFFICERS FOR 1988

John Snell, responsible for nominations, submitted the following slate to the Board to be submitted to the membership at the Annual Meeting:

President: E. Stanley Beacock

Past President:

Secretary/Treasurer: Janette White

Directors continuing to November 1988:

Marjorie Allwood

Olga Bishop

Betty Hardie

James Talman

Directors to be elected, 1988-1989:

Isabel McLean

John Parkhill

Ida Reddy

Elizabeth Spicer

Submitted September 15, 1987

It isn't easy to say goodbye to those who are leaving the Board of Directors but it is hoped that they will continue to support the aims of the Ex Libris Association and do what they can on its behalf. Mary Barber and June Munro have been able to attend the Board meetings and have made substantial contributions on your behalf. Eleanore Donnelly and John Marshall, because of family illnesses and other commitments, have not been able to be as involved with the work of the Association as they had planned. Although John Snell's name is missing from the above list, it is the Board's hope that he will be elected to fill the vacant position of Past President.

PROPOSAL
for the establishment of the
ELIZABETH MORTON MEMORIAL FUND

The Ex Libris Association, at its second annual meeting to be held in Toronto on November 19, 1987, will be asked to approve:

that the Council of the Canadian Library Association be petitioned to establish a trust account to receive donations to honour the memory of Elizabeth Morton, a driving force in the establishment of the Canadian Library Association and its first Executive Director.

Background:

Many members of the Ex Libris Association believe that Elizabeth Morton should be further recognized for her immense contribution to Canadian libraries and librarians, to the Canadian Library Association and the international library community.

The Ex Libris Association believes that many librarians and others across Canada would donate funds to provide such a memorial. However a drive for funds should be Canada-wide and donors should receive a charitable receipt for tax purposes.

For these reasons the Ex Libris Association petitions the Canadian Library Association to establish the fund and receive donations. The members of Ex Libris are prepared to assist the Canadian Library Association in any way possible in the project.

FURTHER The Association will be asked to approve:

that the memorial to Elizabeth Morton take the form of a well researched and written, readable history of the Canadian Library Association including the early association of Canadians with the American Library Association and the many attempts to separate from that Association in the pursuit of a separate Canadian identity.

Background:

At the time of her death Elizabeth Morton had collected a great deal of material relating to Canadian libraries. This collection has been deposited in the National Archives of Canada by the Canadian Library Association. She had also written on the subject and her essay in the Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science is the major resource on the history of the Canadian Library Association.
