Comments:

"...he presided over UBC Library during a period of extensive growth but he was not a mere administrator; he was a scholar, a lover of history and a gentleman ... in short, a librarian's librarian ..."

Citation on the receipt of the Order of Canada:

"Basil Stuart-Stubbs displayed vision and boundless energy in his work on behalf of Canadian librarians, book publishers and authors. As the University Librarian at UBC for many years, he established and guided UBC Press and organized the first Conference on Western Regional Publishing in 1972. He was one of the early proponents of public lending rights legislation to compensate writers for the use of their works in public libraries. More recently, he has served as a founding director of Simon Fraser University's Canadian Centre for Studies in Publishing."
