Comments

“Nicknamed ‘The Oracle,’ Ireland was known for his ability to come up with an answer to almost any query.” — Ann Lindsay, 2011.

“When he rose to speak, his audiences always knew they would never be bored. He gave history a touch of class and more than of touch of humor.” — Vancouver Province, March 9, 1974.

“Few men deserve so full the appellation ‘a gentleman and a scholar.’ I wish to thank Willard Ireland for his years of devoted service in the government and people of this province.” — Ernie Hall, B.C. Provincial Secretary in the Vancouver Sun, December 29, 1973.
